“ It is our privilege to recommend Julian and Mindy. From the moment we listed our home, they engaged as if we were members of the family. At every step of the way, they kept us apprised of the market and showings. Unlike other realtors we have worked with there was never any pressure to lower our price, or any other tactics for a quick sale. It is rare when your realtor is focused on you and not their commission. They took as much pride in our home as we did and represented our interest as if it was their own. They are extremely creative, engaged, honest, and sincere in helping their clients. Selling a home can be a very stressful life event. They absorbed all that stress for us. It is the best real estate transaction experience we've ever had, and by far, they are the best we've had the pleasure of working together. ”

PUBLISHER'S PERSPECTIVE: BE NICE!

By Josh Warburton

If you don't have something nice to say don't say anything at all, goes the old adage.

But like a lot of old adages these days, they don't seem to ring true with current times. Now I'm sure that phrase came about in response to people saying unnecessary, mean things, but I feel like few people bite their tongue near as much as they should.

In the case of the current debates around some very hot-button issues, suddenly, it seems like everybody you know thinks they're an expert in one or more of these issues. And guess what? Most of them are not. And neither am I.

In searching for the proper words to articulate my thoughts on the current level of division in our country I realize that despite how many hours per day of political podcasts I may listen to, my own personal work in politics, and my experience as a publisher of 26 years, I still am no expert. I'm like the kid in the back of the class who is always paying attention and observing while saying very little. I consume sometimes dozens of hours per week in listening to and reading local, regional, national, and world politics and current events, and at most I write one article per month. And generally, it's not even about politics.

So, take my words with a grain of salt. As I think you should virtually everyone else's words, except for maybe the true experts.

These are challenging and notable times in our history. Recent Supreme Court rulings, gun restriction legislation passing, the January 6 hearings, and the state of the world economy as it stutters from Russia's invasion of the Ukraine and after effects of the Covid pandemic make these days some of the most complex and historic ever.

The divisions in both major parties as well as the country as a whole, have never been so stark. Somehow our focus has been directed toward issues that frankly don't affect our everyday lives as much as other issues do. Neil Degrasse Tyson would say that humans are not good at risk-assessment, and I have to agree.

So, if it seems like sometimes you don't hear a lot from me, this is why. I am observing. I am absorbing. I am witnessing, history. Wise man listens twice as much as he speaks, goes the old proverb. And for me, at this point in my life, that feels right. Will you see me out there in cyberspace attempting to reason with the unreasonable? Certainly. That's also part of who I am. But in context of everything going on, remember, we are all in this together.

And everyone just wants the same basic set of things. Essentials. Comfort. And the pursuit of happiness. I hope we all find it.

And be nice! Happy reading.

FREE FAMILY FUN AT BEST FRIENDS ANIMAL SOCIETY

There is a destination in Southern Utah where 30,000 animal lovers make a pilgrimage from all around the world every year. This place is the home and headquarters of Best Friends Animal Society, which operates the largest animal sanctuary in the United States.

Best Friends Animal Sanctuary, located just outside Kanab, Utah, and in close proximity to Zion and Bryce National Parks, cares for about 1,600 animals on any given day and offers free visitor and volunteer experiences at every level. It's the dogs, cats, horses, bunnies, pigs, goats, and more that attract visitors for the first time. But it's the sense of community, the stunning ambiance, and the peaceful energy of the Sanctuary that keep people coming back.

What began as a dream by its co-founders in 1984 to save homeless pets, Best Friends' Sanctuary has grown from endless acres of rustic land formerly used as dinosaur stomping grounds and a backdrop for Western movies into a national organization that's working to end of the killing of dogs and cats in America's shelters.

At the Sanctuary, visitors can see and experience Best Friends' lifesaving work in action, while volunteers have the potential for such activities as socializing puppies or bunnies, feeding popcorn to pigs, taking a cat on a stroller ride, taking a dog for a walk, playing with kittens or taking select pets on a sleepover.

Lodging can be found on-site in one of the Sanctuary's several cabins and cottages that offer views of horse pastures and starry skies, or at the organization's hotel the Best Friends Roadhouse & Mercantile, in downtown Kanab, winner of the 2022 Best Motel Award from Best of State Utah.

Designed as the most pet-centric hotel in the country, the Roadhouse extends the Sanctuary experience by offering guests sleepovers of Sanctuary dogs, cats, and bunnies or offers a warm welcome to your own pets. What's more, every stay benefits the lifesaving work of Best Friends Animal Society.

At the Roadhouse, pets can enjoy all the available activities, such as time in the play yards, a summer splash zone, the mercantile store, Saturday morning yoga and hanging out during live music and movie events happening throughout the year. There's a fire pit going every night at the Roadhouse, so pick up a s'mores kit at the mercantile and experience some old-school joy with your travel mates. Each room comes with built-in trundle pet beds, lots of pet treats, plus a delicious daily vegan continental breakfast is available for humans!

Just down the road, you'll find free family fun at the Best Friends Visitor Center, with crafts, cookies, story time, and more happening throughout the week.

However long you plan to visit Kanab – a few hours, days, or even weeks – you won't want to miss the magic of the Best Friends experience. Visit www.bestfriends.org to learn more about the sanctuary and www.bestfriendsroadhouse.org to book a stay at the Best Friends Roadhouse & Mercantile.

SIMONFEST CELEBRATES 20 YEARS IN CEDAR CITY

SimonFest Theatre Company is twenty years old this year, and celebrating its anniversary season with two grand musicals, plus two popular comedies.

Founder Richard Bugg proclaims, "We have always focused on producing character-driven plays that allow us to share with our audience a fun and cathartic journey. This year is no exception. These shared experiences with great theatrical stories, bring us together with empathy and understanding. What could be more important than that during our current political climate."

Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Webber's Evita charts the young and ambitious Eva Peron's meteoric rise to sainthood. Set in Argentina between 1934-1953, the Tony-winning musical follow Eva Duarte on her journey from poor illegitimate child to ambitious actress to (as wife of military leader-turned-president Juan Perón,) the most powerful woman in Latin America, before her death from cancer at age 33. This musical masterpiece trial during the Spanish Inquisition. He and his fellow prisoners perform a play-within-a-play, telling the story of the elderly Alonso Quijana, who renames himself "Don Quixote" and goes on a quest to right all wrongs in the world. The rousing, Spanish-inflected score includes the classic numbers "The Impossible Dream," "I, Don Quixote," and "Dulcinea."

Welcome to Almost, Maine, a play by John Cariani, a place that's so far north, it's almost not in the United States. It's not quite a town, because its residents never got around to getting organized. So it almost doesn't exist. One cold, clear, winter night, as the northern lights hover in the star-filled sky above, the residents of Almost, Maine, find themselves falling in and out of love in unexpected and hilarious ways. Knees are bruised. Hearts are broken. But the bruises heal, and the hearts mend—almost—in this delightful midwinter night's dream.

A.R. Gurney's Love Letters is about a romantic friendship and correspondence destined to last for almost half a century. Over the course of their lives, Andy and Melissa's relationship goes through many changes. Love Letters is a tender, tragi-comic, and nuanced examination of the shared nostalgia, missed opportunities, and deep closeness of two lifelong, complicated friends.

While spanning five decades and numerous locations, it is staged simply, with two actors letting their words describe a world of emotion. Celebrity Clarence Gilyard (Walker, Texas Ranger, Matlock, Die Hard) stars alongside local favorite Janice Brooks. The SimonFest Summer Season runs July 7th through July 30th at the Heritage Center Theatre in Cedar City. For performance times and ticket information, go to SimonFest.org or call 435-267-0194.

Inspired by Miguel de Cervantes' seventeenth-century masterpiece, Don Quixote, and set during the Spanish Inquisition, Dale Wasserman, Mitch Leigh, and Joe Darion have transformed these classic tales into a musical masterpiece. The original 1965 production won five Tony Awards, including Best Musical. Cervantes is in prison awaiting

Seussical is a musical comedy based on the works of Dr. Seuss. This whacky production weaves together the most famous tales and characters from at least fifteen Dr. Seuss books. Traveling everywhere from the Jungle of Nool to McElligot's Pool, some of the characters fall in love, some have desperate adventures, and some even save the world. When it comes to Seussical, "Anything's possible!"

Dave Freeman. This show was first performed in London's West End in 1973 and has since been turned into a movie in 1998. It is a comical farce, following in the footsteps of Boeing Boeing which we brought to you last summer. A Bedfull of Foreigners is set in a small town on the France and Germany border. A couple on vacation finds a hotel room during a busy festival. The couple, played by Michael Lee and Danalee Dial, first think they are lucky. However, they soon realize they are wrong when another couple has rented the same room by mistake.

The second couple is played by Ginger Nelson and J. Bryan Dial. As the two couples attempt to maneuver this disaster, confusion and chaos ensue with the arrival of a secret girlfriend, played by Allie Koller. These five characters, along with the two hotel workers played by Trey Paterson and Coy Andrew Shinn Jr. combine to give the viewer sharp humor, a mixture of foreign accents, and an evening where everything goes wrong.

Joshua Scott, The Stage Door's artistic director, will be directing this show. Josh has directed numerous other shows for The Stage Door, the former Dixie State University, and throughout the community. Among the shows he has directed for The Stage Door are Boeing, Boeing, Sweeney Todd, and Chicago. Josh is excited to be directing comedy again during the hot summers of Southern Utah. He originally directed for the Comedy Storm series of summer comedies at DSU with Varlo Davenport before the program discontinued and left a void in non-musical entertainment.

Tickets for both shows can be purchased online at thestagedoortheater.com or by calling the box office at 435-656-4407. All performances will be held at the Electric Theater at 68 E Tabernacle, St. George, UT 84770.

This experience was created for families to perform together, often a rare experience. Leads include up and coming actor Davin Smith who will melt your heart as the young boy JoJo. Audiences will be thrilled to see local theater veteran Joel Thomas, who after 16 years, will reprise his role as Horton the Elephant. Only this time, his wife and three children (one who is just a year old!) will be joining him onstage.

The well known and beloved husband and wife duo Brad and Barb Christensen, will play the roles of the feared General Genghis Khan Schmitz, and the sassy Mayzie La Bird. Their daughter Emeline Christensen will play the role of the love-stricken Gertrude McFuzz. Leading the story as the Cat in the Hat, Geoffrey Reynolds (UTU's Raging Red Director) will "pop up here and there (and you'll never know where!)" throughout the show with his wife and their 6-year-old daughter. Jamie Cook will ignite the stage as the Sour Kangaroo, and by her side you'll see her husband, and all four of their children. Many other families will take the stage together, some for the very first time!

This show is directed by Brianna Rosia, who is finally fulfilling her 15 years long dream of directing Seussical. Along with Amy Gleave as the director of music.

Seussical will run June 29 - July 16, 2022. Shows will run Wednesday - Saturday at 7:30pm, and July 2-9 2:00pm.

At the end of July, The Stage Door will be presenting A Bedfull of Foreigners by

THE 2022 KANE COUNTY FAIR RETURNS IN AUGUST

Aug. 6-13 in Orderville, Utah.

Kane County has a rich history of pioneering spirit, industry, agriculture, farming, ranching, entrepreneurship, food, and fun. For 68 years the fair has been a focal point for families. Youth throughout the years have found lasting memories, opportunities for leadership, and simple fun traditions to pass on to the next generation. It was around 1946 when the Long Valley Sale began. There were many kids wanting to show and sell their animals but in order for them to do that, they had to take them to Cedar City. Instead of traveling to Cedar the residences around Long Valley decided to start their own sale and show.

This year's fair has over 20 events for patrons to enjoy. Events are held at a variety of locations. A list of locations can be found at TheKaneCountyFair.com.

This year's fair features a bucking bull for attendees to try and ride, concessions and vendors, a family dance, live entertainment, and fireworks. Patrons can also enjoy inflatables, a parade, and a kid zone, a talent show, and a performance by Thrillbilly Deluxe.

Attendees can enter livestock, horticulture, and floriculture in the county fair competition or bring their babies to enter in the baby contest.

Other contest opportunities include dummy roping, a horse show, log saw, long range rifle shoot and three-gun shoot, and Dutch oven cooking. There will also be a 4-H fair, home arts display, a crafts competition, and a fine arts competition.

More information on the Kane County Fair is available at TheKaneCountyFair.com. Vendors can email Sherri Crofts: 17plattshe@washk12.org.

LAKE POWELL - OPERATION DRY WATER

Focused To Stop Boating Under the Influence

Glen Canyon National Recreation Area, Ariz./Utah – During the summer, Glen Canyon National Recreation Area will be participating in the national Operation Dry Water awareness and enforcement weekend. Law enforcement officers across the country will especially be on heightened alert July 2 through 4 for those in violation of boating under the influence laws. Law enforcement rangers will also be working to increase public awareness of the dangers of boating under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Operation Dry Water is a nationwide event in partnership with the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators (NAS-BLA) and the U.S. Coast Guard.

“Each year our park rangers respond to unnecessary tragedies on the water that could have been avoided if it weren't for the presence of drugs or alcohol. Our job is to protect those in the communities we serve, and it is everyone's job to be responsible while recreating. Only together can we ensure that everyone who visits Glen Canyon and Lake Powell is able to enjoy their time with family and friends safely,” says Superintendent William Shott.

Operating a vessel under the influence of drugs or alcohol is illegal on all bodies of water and can lead to serious injuries and death for boat operators and passengers and legal consequences. Glen Canyon National Recreation Area reminds visitors to always remain sober when boating and to wear a life jacket when on the water. Children 12 years of age and younger must wear a U. S. Coast Guard approved life-jacket when the boat is underway.

Operation Dry Water is a year-round boating under the influence awareness and enforcement campaign with the mission of reducing the number of alcohol and drug related accidents and fatalities. The nationwide July 4th holiday event increases recreational boater awareness and fosters a stronger and more visible deterrent to alcohol and drug use on the water.

Visit operationdrywater.org for more information about boating under the influence.

The 2022 season also brings us The Greenshow, Play Seminars, Play Orientations, Repertory Magic, and Production Seminars for audiences to enjoy.

"The 2022 season at the Utah Shakespeare Festival is sure to be a can't miss season," said Executive Producer Frank Mack about the theatre season that began June 23rd.

The season will feature over nine plays in three theatres, plus some of the extra "Festival Experience" traditions and activities guests have come to love over the last six decades, with The Greenshow, play seminars, orientations, and numerous classes.

Join USF in celebrating their sixty-first season, once again full of laughter, wonder, love, and song. Here are just a few of the sights and sounds you can look forward to this season.

All's Well That Ends Well

Kicking off this season is All's Well That Ends Well. All's Well That Ends Well is one of Shakespeare's more challenging comedies and contains Shakespeare's usual sexual puns and innuendo. Thus, it may not be suitable for some preteens. Although the king forces the young Count Bertram to marry orphaned Helen, he cannot make him love her. Only by completing an impossible task can Helen win that affection she longs for.

Sweeney Todd

In addition to All's Well That Ends Well, audiences can enjoy Sweeney Todd. It is important to note that Sweeney Todd contains theatrical depictions of violence, death, physical abuse, and sexual assault. But it's also incredibly funny. It may also not be suitable for preteens.

The Sound of Music

The Sound of Music is one of the world's most beloved family musicals and is suitable for all audiences. Maria, too exuberant to be a proper nun, is sent to the Von Trapp family as a governess for seven unruly children. There she teaches the children to sing and Captain Von Trapp to love, only to have the singing family tormented by the invading Nazis. Known and loved the world over, The Sound of Music reminds us that with hope, heartfelt compassion, and determination, every mountain can be climbed.

Clue

Clue is another fun, family-friendly whodunit and is suitable for all audiences. It's a dark and stormy night, and the guests arrive at a very unusual dinner party. Each of the guests has an alias, the butler offers a variety of weapons, and the host is, well . . . dead. So whodunnit? Join the iconic oddballs known as Scarlet, Plum, White, Green, Peacock, and Mustard as they race to find the murderer before the body count stacks up. It's a madcap comedy that will keep you guessing until the final clue is untangled.

Thurgood

Coming late September, Thurgood contains some racial slurs and discussion of violence and a small amount of adult language; however, it is suitable for all audiences.

Meet Thurgood Marshall: Lawyer. Civil rights activist. The first African American Supreme Court justice. In this acclaimed one-man play, you witness Marshall transform from a young and spirited dissenter to a pensive and wise justice. From his early days as a civil rights lawyer to his years on the highest court in the land, Thurgood Marshall stood for justice while lifting the standing of his race, and of all Americans.

The Tempest

Coming up in July you can look forward to The Tempest, as well as a few others.

The Tempest is one of Shakespeare's most popular romances. It contains some of Shakespeare's usual sexual puns and innuendo, but it is also suitable for all audiences. Teeming with fairies, monsters, shipwrecks, and magic, The Tempest is Shakespeare's last and most imaginative romance. Updated to the 1990s, this production is set on a small island where the deposed Duchess Prospero and her lovely daughter, Miranda, have been stranded for twelve years and where nothing is quite as it seems. But as they separate fantasy from authenticity, they eventually discover a "brave new world" of love, harmony, and redemption.

So as you can see, there is plenty to look forward to this season as we dive back into the amazing sights and sounds that The Shakespeare Festival is known for.

EVOLUTION OF THE AMERICAN EXPERIMENT
By Howard Sierer

The American experiment in self-government is unique in history and has been copied by emerging nations around the globe. Speaking at Yorktown in 1981, Pres. Reagan noted that "its themes [have been] adopted in places many of us have never heard of. Here in this land, for the first time, it was decided that man is born with certain God-given rights."

I've chosen excerpts from some key documents and Supreme Court rulings that in my mind demonstrate how our experiment has evolved over the last 400 years.

Mayflower Compact

[We] do by these presents, solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God, and one another; covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic; for our better ordering, and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid; and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute, and frame, such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and offices, from time to time, as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony; unto which we promise all due submission and obedience.

Declaration of Independence

We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness—That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed, that whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these Ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness.

"American Crisis" during the Revolutionary War

These are the times that try men's souls: The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like Hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: it is dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed if so celestial an article as freedom should not be highly rated.

U.S. Constitution

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

1st Amendment

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

13th Amendment

Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

14th Amendment

All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

15th Amendment

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

19th Amendment

The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Brown v. Board of Education

"We conclude that in the field of public education the doctrine of "separate but equal" has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal. Therefore, we hold that the plaintiffs and others similarly situated for whom the actions have been brought are, by reason of the segregation complained of, deprived of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment."

Obergefell v. Hodges

"Under the Constitution, same-sex couples seek in marriage the same legal treatment as opposite-sex couples, and it would disparage their choices and diminish their personhood to deny them this right."

WILL INFLATION CONTROL US OR THE OTHER WAY AROUND?

By Lisa Rutherford

While millions are trying to maintain their simple lifestyles, others are making out like bandits during this inflationary time.

Take the CEO of Chipotle, Brian Niccol. He made $38 million in 2020. That's 2,898 times more than the median store-level employee. Even as profits soared, Chipotle raised prices by 10% over the two-year 2020-2022 period. Thereby, putting more stress on the pockets of average Americans who eat there while their CEO lives in the lap of luxury.

Chipotle is not the only problem. Starbucks has also hiked prices even as profits soared last year by more than 30%. And their CEO Kevin Johnson received a 40% boost in compensation, which compared to the prior year totaled more than $20 million. The company, when questioned, said that CEO pay and compensation could not be compared to product cost. It's true that the two are determined based on different criteria, but that doesn't mean they aren't linked. If the company makes more money by raising prices for which people seem willing to pay, CEOs benefit. The typical CEO-to-worker ratio is about 350 to one, which is extraordinary in my opinion.

For companies like Chipotle and Starbucks to raise their product prices and pamper their CEOs, as they have when inflation was already raising gaining steam and while they were already making profits, certainly adds to the overall problem of inflation. But companies such as Chipotle and Starbucks are only part of the problem.

In May 2021, a little over year ago, America's economy was bouncing back following the initial stages of the pandemic with the help of trillions of dollars of fiscal stimulus. There was some concern that inflation might result, but the Federal Reserve's chairman, Jerome Powell, said he was not even thinking about raising rates. Now, a year later and with inflation continuing to increase, he and President Biden met to figure out what steps to take.

It's an incredibly pesky problem, that I've written about previously. No one person is totally in control of the situation—not Powell and not Biden. It's a worldwide problem currently. But some such as Chipotle's and Starbucks' CEOs should certainly not be feeding at the inflation trough.

As was made clear, even last year, the stimulus checks and pent-up demand after a year of covid meant people were out buying again and putting demand on the supply chain. But that was last year, and the stimulus checks were not the only problem. So, blaming it on government spending does not help the situation either. In fact, the stimulus checks helped many pay off their credit card debit. But, again, that was the past, and now credit card debt is way up! The government didn't do that; people did it themselves. Consumers are adding to the problem. Yes, inflation has created a situation in which people feel the need to use credit, but are they really using it well. Or, are they just spending on many unnecessary things rather than focusing on what's truly necessary?

And with the feds poised to raise interest rates more, using credit cards will only get worse for those already deep in debt or those headed that direction.

Financial planner and author, Dan

Wyson, recently wrote about "America's growing financial illiteracy" and made some salient points about the lack of financial knowledge on the part of many in our society. He specifically targeted the young.

Unlike those of the Greatest Generation, who learned about privation and saving, and many in the Boomer generation, who learned from their parents' generation, generations that followed are used to a life of plenty and spend freely. It does seem that kids are not being taught at home how to wisely manage money since they see "buy more" as the rule. As we know, Amazon is always at the ready to satisfy their need!

But according to Finder.com credit statistics perhaps younger Americans are on a better track. "Americans younger than 30 have the lowest amount of credit card debt among all Americans at 6.3%." "Americans aged 50 to 59 just barely hold the most credit card debt at 22.6%." Of course, those in the 50-59 age group are often in the prime earning time of their lives. Americans who earn less than $25K have an average debt of $3,000. 14% of Americans own ten cards!

Generation Z (born 1997-2012) owns the lowest average number of cards at 1.4.

Impulse spending seems to be a problem though. A survey done in May of this year showed that 73% of respondents, three in four, stated that most of their purchases tend to be spontaneous—a jump from 59% in the previous year's study. So, inflation is a problem, but when people are buying spontaneously a good deal of the time without giving adequate thought to those purchases, that is adding to the problem. The average person spends $315 per month on impulse purchases, up from $276 in 2021. And the most the average person will spend on a single item is $310, also up from 2021, which was $277. Now, you can say inflation caused that cost increase, but we decide whether to spend the money or not. And, impulse means you didn't plan it. Those who let their whims determine their actions are bound to have some problems.

Savings rates have dropped to their lowest levels since 2008. In the first quarter of 2022, 537 million new credit card accounts were opened!

Here are some things to consider. American children have 40% of the world's toys but are only 3.1% of the world's children. The average American family spends $1,700 on clothes annually and throws away 65 pounds of clothing per year!

Some are warning that by pulling back on our spending a recession may result. But let's get control of one problem at a time. Currently inflation is the problem not a recession. Increases in the minimum wage and rising employee salaries are making people feel more flush and ready to spend, also driving inflation. Many have the "fear of missing out" on life experiences, pushing them to spend and travel more. Yes, the cost of necessary items such as food and gas have gone up, but individuals can manage that better than they are. It's apparent that is not being done very well. Let's not condemn President Biden and others for our own lack of self-control. If we spend at Chipotle, Starbucks, Amazon and others—many who are raising their prices—we are helping their bottom line but hurting ours.

PA'RUS TRAIL IN ZION NATIONAL PARK

Trail: Pa'rus Trail
Location: Zion National Park
Difficulty: A very easy paved trail. This is the only trail in Zion National Park to allow leashed dogs and bicycles.
Average Hiking Time: Less than two hours at a leisurely pace.
Elevation: 3,852 feet trailhead elevation with about a 100 feet elevation change.
Family Friendly: Yes, family and leashed dog friendly. Just watch out for speeding bicyclists.
Getting There: From St. George drive to Hurricane via Interstate 15 and State Route 9. In Hurricane stay on State Route 9 and follow the signs to Zion National Park. It is about 45 minutes driving time from St. George to Zion. Beyond the southern park entrance station, continue less than 100 yards and turn right (southeast), cross a bridge over the Virgin River, and enter the Visitor Center parking lot. Park, walk back to the Visitor Center, and recross

Fortunately, we live close to spectacular Zion National Park. Included in its boundaries are some demanding hikes—Angel's Landing, The Narrows, The Subway, Hidden Canyon, and so on. We have done them all. It also has some easy hikes such as Pa'rus Trail—our destination.

Just because it is easy doesn't mean Pa'rus Trail should be ignored. It is a stroll in the middle of the Zion Canyon alongside the Virgin River with amazing views. When you need that easy hike filled with stunning views where you don't sweat or risk a heart attack, consider Pa'rus Trail. (The trail is named after the Paiute word for "bubbling water.") It is the only trail to allow dogs on a leash and bicycles in Zion National Park. Beware of speeding bicyclists.

In 1919 Congress established Zion as the Utah's first national park. Diversity dominates the 229 square mile park. Diversity in habitats with elevations ranging from 3,600 to 8,700 feet and including arid desert, woodland, coniferous forest, and riparian environments. Diversity in life forms with 69 species of mammals, 208 birds, 29 reptiles, six amphibians, and nine fish. And diversity in geology with mountains, buttes, mesas, arches, and, of course, canyons.

The trailhead elevation is 3,852 feet and the 3.5 miles round trip hike has an elevation gain of about 100 feet. The sky was mostly blue with some wispy clouds as we began our hike at 9:30 am with the temperature in the mid-50s.

The wide paved trail heads north

Further along the scenery is more dramatic with magnificent views of the cliffs and mountains of Zion Canyon. From this point on, the towering reds, oranges, and browns of the canyon walls are stunning.

Along the way, we stopped and read the several trail exhibits, often placed near rest area benches. Among other topics, they provided quick lessons about the plants and animals in riparian zone near the river, the power of erosion, and the diversion dam along the river.

About one mile from the trailhead is a dirt trail on the left (heading west) leading to the Zion Human History Museum.

Via bridges, we crossed the Virgin River three times and it's Pine Creek tributary once.

Near the northern end, 1.7 miles from the trailhead, the trail goes under State Route 9 and ends at the Canyon Junction shuttle stop. We hung around for a while taking photos and then retraced our steps back to the trailhead.

This is a 3.5 mile round trip hike, (well, maybe a stroll) that took us less than two hours at a leisurely pace with many photo stops. If you need an easy hike featuring the riparian environment alongside the Virgin River and stunning views of lower Zion Canyon, this may be for you.

the bridge. On the northwest side of the bridge heading north, and alongside the Virgin River, is the signed trailhead for Pa'rus Trail.

Sometimes you want a challenging hike, one that pushes you. Other times, when you need to get outside but are feeling a bit lazy, an easy hike, almost a stroll, is appropriate. Especially one on which you can take Fido, a hike and walking the dog.

along the Virgin River in the flat and open lower section of Zion Canyon. The first section runs along the edge of South Campground and next to the Virgin River. After passing through the campground, the trail is in an isolated wooded riparian environment. Several places along the trail give approved access to the river below, great for some exceptional river photos. But please obey the "Do not hike here" signs.

GUIDE TO UTAH'S LIQUOR LAWS

If you order an alcoholic drink at the restaurant bar, don't be surprised when the bartender asks you to order some food with your drink. In Utah, restaurants may only serve alcoholic beverages with food. Customers don't have to order food each time they buy another drink. The beer sold in grocery stores and gas stations, and tap beer is a bit weaker in Utah, limited to 3.2% alcohol content by weight (4.0% by volume), about 0.5% less than a typical American domestic beer. You can buy full-strength beer, along with liquor and wine, in a state-operated liquor store. Please remember to tip your servers and drink responsibly! The Utah State Liquor Store in Springdale is located inside the Switchback.

Safety Tips For Zion

Emergencies

For 24-hour emergency response, call 911 or (435) 772-3322. The Zion Canyon Medical Clinic is located in Springdale near the south entrance to the park. For hours, please call (435) 772-3226. Other medical clinics are located in Hurricane. The nearest hospitals are in St. George, Cedar City, and Kanab.

Hydrate and use refillable water bottles

It is easy to get dehydrated while hiking and walking in the desert, so pack along extra water, and be sure to take rest and water breaks on long hikes. There are a number of places to refill your water bottles in Zion National Park including the visitors' center and Zion Lodge as well as a new hydration station at the Springdale bus stop in front of The Bumbleberry Inn and Zion Canyon Brew Pub.

Be cautious near steep cliffs

Falls from cliffs on trails can result in death. Loose sand or pebbles on stone are very slippery. Be careful of edges when using cameras or binoculars. Never throw or roll rocks because there may be hikers below you. Stay on the trail. Stay back from cliff edges. Observe posted warnings. Please watch children.

Watch for flash floods

All narrow canyons are potentially hazardous. Flash floods, often caused by storms miles away, are a real danger and can be life threatening. You are assuming a risk when entering a narrow canyon. Your safety is your responsibility.

Tips To Minimize Your Impact

Pack it in, pack it out & use recycling bins

Each month, Zion National Park pays many thousands of dollars to haul away waste collected from garbage cans and recycling bins. Your experience and that of everyone who visits Zion Canyon can be improved by never littering and making sure you pick up any trash you see along the way. Recycling bins are placed strategically throughout Zion Park, and it is highly encouraged for everyone to use them.

Please stay on the marked trails

Hiking off trails can lead to loss of vegetation, soil compaction, erosion, and unsightly scars on the landscape. Remember, if you bring it in, please pack it out.

Go before you go

It is always a good idea to use the restroom before you begin a hike since facilities are limited to select locations. If you do need to take care of your business, please pack it back out.

Be respectful to the wildlife

Feeding, harming, or capturing wild animals is illegal and can cause injury or death to the animal. Animals can become aggressive beggars when fed.

Please leave it how you found it

It is illegal to remove anything from Zion National Park, including flowers, rocks, or anything else that you might find. Do not write or carve on natural surfaces.

Tips To Maximize Enjoyment

Go on a less crowded hike

The most visited Zion hikes have a lot of competition. If you'd rather not feel like you're in the line at a theme park, consider seeking out a less traveled path. Check out our feature, Less-Traveled Zion Hikes, in this issue.

To avoid the crowds, go early or late in the day

Consider getting up extra early or trekking out midday after the initial rush has flooded in.

Consider coming back again in the low season

Starting in the late fall, the number of visitors to Zion Canyon starts to dwindle, and by December it's significantly less than in the heat of the summer. It is simply a different experience to see Zion in the winter with the snow-capped monoliths. Most hikes are still accessible and are less crowded. You can also drive to the Temple of Sinawava parking lot. The shuttles stop running from November until March.

Check out Kolob Canyons and Kolob Terrace Road

With gorgeous open spaces and plenty of dirt roads to explore, Kolob Terrace Road is one of Zion's best kept secrets. You'll notice the air getting cooler as you gain elevation, and you'll find plenty of beautiful views worth stopping at for a quick photo op. The Kolob Terrace Road turnoff is in Virgin, so watch for signs. Portions of the Kolob Canyon District of Zion National Park are reached via Exit 40 on Interstate 15.

Get some great hiking in Zion National Park is known for its scenic landscape and unrivaled hikes. No matter your fitness level, there are hikes here for you. Please go to ZionGuide.com to see the details on many area hikes.

Spend a day in Springdale

Springdale is unique to our national park system in that it is almost completely surrounded by Zion National Park. So when you're in Springdale, you're right in the middle of Zion Canyon.

Catch an event

Not only does Zion Brew Pub have live music every Saturday, the property also hosts a handful of events throughout the year, as do the Bit and Spur restaurant, Tanner Amphitheater, Bumbleberry Inn, Wildcat Willies, and several other locations.

Try a guided tour

Jeep, helicopter, ATV, canyoneering, horseback riding, or mountain biking, guided tours are all available. Many of these tours take you outside Zion National Park boundaries and give you a unique perspective on Zion's canyons and plateaus from surrounding areas of southern Utah. Check out ZionGuide.com for listings and ads.

Visit the east side of Zion and spend a day in Kanab

The east side of Zion is generally less crowded, making hikes more accessible and private. These are some of the most enjoyable hikes in the canyon. You can spot wildlife you won't see elsewhere in the canyon. The city of Kanab, situated east of the canyon, is full of unique attractions, like the Little Hollywood Movie Museum and the Best Friends Animal Sanctuary.

Zion National Park Shuttle Info

SPRING OPERATIONS UPDATES FOR ZION NATIONAL PARK

Important Shuttle Bus Information

The Zion Canyon Line, or park shuttle, runs from the visitor center up the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive to destinations like the Zion Lodge and trailheads, including Emerald Pools, West Rim Trail, and Temple of Sinawava where hikers depart for the Narrows. There are two shuttle routes, and both are free. See our Park Information Guide for a map of the park shuttle.

The Springdale Shuttle, or town shuttle, is located in the Town of Springdale. It stops at 9 locations in town and picks up and drops off visitors at the park's pedestrian/bike entrance.

Background

The shuttle system was established in 2000 to eliminate traffic and parking problems, protect vegetation, and restore tranquility to Zion Canyon. In 2017, park shuttles estimated more than 6.3 million riders. In 1997, visitation was 2.4 million and increasing.

When The Shuttle Is In Operation

The park is a big place, and you can drive yourself on all open park roads except the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive during the shuttle season when Scenic Drive is closed to private vehicles. Shuttle season is almost all year. Typically, shuttles run March through November, weekends in February and March, and the last week in December. See the current and upcoming schedule below. Explore the map of the park to see other roads you can drive. If you would like to visit the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive before or after the shuttles run each day, you may use a bicycle.

Shuttle Schedule

Weekend-only shuttle service will resume on the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive from February 19 through March 18, 2022. Monday through Friday, private vehicles are allowed on the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive until all parking lots are full.

During shuttle operations, the last shuttle will arrive back at the Visitor Center around 45 minutes after it leaves the Temple of Sinawava. Do not wait until the last shuttle to leave Zion Canyon for the day. Due to limited capacity, the shuttle may be full by the time it reaches your stop, and you will be out of luck.

Shuttle Service will start in Springdale on March 19, 2022.

How To Use The Shuttle System

The Zion Canyon Shuttle connects the Zion Canyon Visitor Center to stops at various locations on the Zion Canyon Scenic Drive. Shuttles leave every few minutes and are all the same, going to all shuttle stops on the route in both directions. You may get on and off at any shuttle stop in either direction. The shuttle is free, but masks are required. Most visitors should start at the Zion Canyon Visitor Center. If you are staying at the Zion Lodge, please begin by using the shuttle there. More details about the park shuttle, including open and closed shuttle stops, are featured on our Park Information Guide.

The Springdale shuttle operates similarly on the town route but is slightly less frequent. Shuttle Stop Map in the town of Springdale.

Parking is limited inside Zion, and all parking lots fill early in the day. Paid Parking is available in the town of Springdale.

Our website contains additional Traffic and Travel Tips, and you can tune your radio to 1610 AM for additional information when you arrive.

Please, no eating or smoking on the bus, beverages other than water are not allowed, and pets are not permitted on the shuttle buses.

Masks continue to be required when on the shuttle.

THE LOCALS' GUIDE TO HIKING PREPAREDNESS

National parks are seeing an uptick in helicopters carrying unfortunate hikers out of precarious situations.

In 2017, the National Park Service reported 324 search-and-rescue operations, which means 324 extremely unpleasant vacation experiences — nearly one a day. In 2014, the reported number was almost half that. The majority of those rescues occurred in Zion and Bryce Canyon National Parks, and most hikers who end up getting into trouble are either in their 20s or are older than 60.

Despite our highly skilled and dedicated rescue teams' valiant efforts, not everyone made it out of their predicaments safely. Twelve people lost their lives in Utah's national parks in 2017 alone.

It's hard to imagine one wanting a vacation amid the splendor of our national parks to involve search and rescue teams or a close encounter with death.

Zion National Park is often referred to as an outdoor Disneyland. But this is the wilderness, and it's far less forgiving than any theme park. Here are some tips for how to safely enjoy your time in Zion Canyon.

Bring water

You lose more water through perspiration than you realize, and if you are used to a more moist climate — and nearly any climate is less arid than southern Utah — you can become dehydrated quickly without realizing it.

The National Park Service recommends that hikers bring one gallon of water per hiker per day. There are fill stations throughout Springdale and the park that provided filtered water at no charge.

Natural water sources in the park such as creeks and streams are not reliable sources of clean drinking water. If you find yourself in a situation wherein you need water but have none, it is strongly advised that any locally-sourced water intended for consumption first be filtered, boiled for at least 10 minutes, or treated with iodine before consuming.

Wear appropriate clothing

While most paths and trails are well maintained, this is the great outdoors, and a little loose gravel or slickrock can lead to injury — or worse. Think of appropriate footwear as an insurance policy — and if you are a little nervous, a hiking stick never hurts. Also, dress lightly if it's going to be hot, but be sure to use appropriate sun protection like sunscreen and large-brimmed hats, because suffering from sunstroke or severe sunburn during an already taxing hike can be brutal.

Hike at your skill level, and don't take risks

Trails in Zion range from short and easy to long and challenging. Don't overestimate your ability and endurance level. And don't engage in horseplay or other activity that might endanger yourself or others. Some of Zion's hikes are steep, and you wouldn't be the first person to tumble down a hill — or worse, fall off a cliff. Zion is beautiful, but it's also dangerous, so respect yourself and others by respecting the terrain.

Leave wildlife alone

Animals instinctively avoid humans, but the area is home to everything from poisonous snakes to mountain lions. Never approach local wildlife — and never try to feed them. This can result in injury to visitors, and numerous visitors have required stitches after attempting to hand-feed animals. But when humans feed wildlife, it's also not good for the animals, who are already best suited to feed themselves.

Hike sober

Sometimes relatively stationary outdoor activities like boating or camping involve enjoying an adult beverage or two. But when you're hiking the varied terrain of our national parks, you don't want your coordination, balance, or judgment to be impaired to any extent. Zion Canyon, Springdale, and Kanab are home to several fine restaurants and bars — but visit them for a cocktail after your hike, not before.

Southern Utah State & National Parks

ANASAZI STATE PARK MUSEUM - This ancient Indian village in the heart of Utah's canyon country was one of the largest Anasazi communities west of the Colorado River. The site is believed to have been occupied from A.D. 1050 to 1200. The village remains largely unexcavated, but many artifacts have been uncovered and are on display in the newly remodeled museum. Anasazi State Park is in the picturesque town of Boulder on State Route 12. Group and individual picnic areas are available. There is no camping. (435) 335-7308.

BAKER - Baker Reservoir is a small lake on the Santa Clara River four miles north of Veyo on Utah State Route 18. It is a 63-acre lake with an average depth of about 20 feet. Many people come to the reservoir to camp at one of its 10 campsites and to fish. The reservoir is stocked with rainbow trout and contains brown trout, green sunfish, crayfish, redbreast shiner, and mountain sucker. It has picnic areas and vault toilets. There is a fee for visiting the reservoir and no boat ramp.

BRYCE CANYON - Bryce Canyon National Park is a scientist's laboratory and a child's playground. Because Bryce transcends 2,000 feet of elevation, the park exists in three distinct climatic zones: spruce/fir forest, ponderosa pine forest and pinon pine/juniper forest. This diversity of habitat provides for high biodiversity. Here at Bryce, you can enjoy over 100 species of birds, dozens of mammals, and more than a thousand plant species. (435) 834-5322.

CEDAR BREAKS - Sitting at over 10,000 feet and looking down into a half-mile deep geologic amphitheater. Come wander among timeless bristlecone pines, stand in lush meadows of wildflowers, ponder crystal-clear night skies and experience the richness of our subalpine forest. Just four miles off Utah Highway 148, you'll find the Cedar Breaks National Monument parking lot.

CORAL PINK SAND DUNES - At an elevation of 6,000 feet and 12 paved miles off U.S. Highway 89 near Kanab, this park provides a fantastic setting for camping, hiking, OHV riding or just playing in the sand. A 265-acre conservation area prohibits motorized vehicles in order to protect the Coral Pink beetle (found nowhere else in the world) and its habitat. The mule deer, jackrabbit, kit fox, coyote, and many small rodents also make the park their home. (435) 648-2800.

DEAD HORSE POINT - Dead Horse Point State Park is perhaps Utah's most spectacular state park. Dead Horse Point is a promontory of stone surrounded by steep cliffs near Moab. The overlook at Dead Horse Point is 6,000 feet above sea level. Two-thousand feet below, the Colorado River winds its way from the continental divide in Colorado to the Gulf of California, a distance of 1,400 miles. (435) 259-2614.

DINOSAUR TRACKS - The St. George Dinosaur Discovery Site at Johnson Farm is home to exceptionally well-preserved dinosaur tracks, some displaying skin impressions. These tracks, along with hundreds of fossil fish, plants, rare dinosaur remains, invertebrates' traces, and important sedimentary structures, show evidence that this site was produced along the western edge of a large, Early Jurassic (age between 195-198 million years ago) freshwater lake. (435) 574-3466.

ENTERPRISE - There are two reservoirs in the Bull Valley Mountains 10 miles southwest of the town of Enterprise. The main one is Upper Enterprise Reservoir, about 250 acres with an average depth of about 50 feet, while Lower Enterprise Reservoir is 79 acres. Many come to the reservoir to camp, fish hike, and boat. The Honeycomb Campground is situated between both lakes and has 21 campsites and flush toilets. There is a boat ramp on Upper Enterprise Reservoir and several fishing areas around both reservoirs. Fishermen will find rainbow trout and smallmouth bass here. Fees are charged.

FOUR CORNERS - The Four Corners is the only place in the U.S. where four states come together at one place: Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado. Here, a person can put each of their hands and feet in four states at the same time. The unique landmark is on Navajo Nation land and is open for visits from the public. West of U.S. Highway 160, 40 miles southwest of Cortez, Colo. (928) 871-6436.

GRAND CANYON - A World Heritage Site encompassing 1,218,375 acres on the Colorado Plateau in northwestern Arizona. The land is semi-arid and consists of raised plateaus and structural basins typical of the southwestern United States. (928) 638-7888.

GRAND STAIRCASE-ESCALANTE NATIONAL MONUMENT - Nearly 1.9 million acres of America's public lands and located between Bryce Canyon and Glen Canyon Recreational Areas. From its namesake Grand Staircase of cliffs and terraces across the rugged Kaiparowits Plateau to the beauty of the Escalante River Canyons, the Monument's size, resources, and isolated location provide amazing opportunities.

GUNLOCK - In scenic red rock country, 15 miles northwest of St. George, lies the 240-acre Gunlock State Park and Reservoir where year-round boating, water sports, and quality fishing for bass and catfish attract visitors. Facilities include boat launching ramp and pit privies. (435) 628-2255.

LAKE MEAD - Lake Mead National Recreation Area offers a wealth of things to do and places to go year-round. Its huge lakes cater to boaters, swimmers, sunbathers and fishermen, while its desert rewards hikers, wildlife photographers, and roadside sightseers. It is also home to thousands of desert plants and animals adapted to survive in an extreme place where rain is scarce and temperatures soar. (702) 293-8990.

LAKE POWELL - In Glen Canyon National Recreation Area is one of the world's great places for houseboating! The 186-mile-long lake offers sandy beaches, cool blue water, and exceptional red-rock scenery. It is excellent for boating, skiing, kayaking, and fishing. Boat or hike to Rainbow Bridge, or explore any of its many canyons or sand dunes. (928) 608-6200.

PINE VALLEY - Pine Valley Reservoir is a beautiful place for fishermen to fish brook trout and rainbow trout. The reservoir is near the Pine Valley Recreation Complex, which has over 150 campsites with picnic and restroom facilities. This area is greener than most other parts of southwestern Utah with pine and pinon trees, and many come to enjoy camping and hiking. It is west of the town of Central. (435) 652-3100.

QUAIL LAKE - Quail Creek State Park provides excellent year-round camping, picnicking, boating, and trout and bass fishing in sunny southwest Utah. The park is three miles east of the Interstate 15 Hurricane exit on Utah State Route 9. Facilities include 23 campsites, modern restrooms, a fish cleaning station, and two covered group-use pavilions. (435) 879-2378.

SAND HOLLOW - Looking to fish? Swim? Ride your ATV in the sand? Do all that and more at Sand Hollow State Park, located between St. George and Hurricane. Bring your boat, a picnic, and some fishing gear for a fun day on the reservoir, or watch the kids swim while you relax on the beach. Load up your RV or tent and settle in for a nice campout, or ride your ATV in the dunes of Sand Mountain. (435) 680-0715.

SNOW CANYON - Named after early Utah leaders Lorenzo and Erastus Snow, Snow Canyon State Park begins just outside of Ivins and stretches northward. Spectacular scenery includes towering red and white sandstone cliffs, black lava formations, and even a waterfall that appears during heavy rain. Snow Canyon offers 16 miles of hiking trails, beautiful sand dunes, technical rock climbing sites, horseback riding, year-round camping, nature studies, and wildlife viewing. This park is a favorite for locals and visitors alike. (435) 628-2255.

ZION - With breathtaking views, numerous hiking attractions of all difficulty levels and some of the most spectacular scenery on earth, Zion National Park and its surrounding areas attract thousands of visitors every year. This natural wonder is not only a mecca of recreational activity, but Zion and nearby Springdale host numerous cultural activities, as well. There's something for everyone in Zion - whether you're looking for a challenging hike or a fun excursion for the family. (435) 772-3256.

Trail Closures (as of March 1 '20)

The Weeping Rock Trail, Hidden Canyon Trail, and Observation Point Trail (East Rim from Weeping Rock) are closed due to rockfall damage. These closures are indefinite at this time. Lower Emerald Pools Trail is closed for trail repairs until Spring 2020.

Hiking is popular in Zion National Park, and popular hikes are seeing record visitation at peak days and times. For a less congested trek, consider these less-traveled hikes.

Northgate Peaks

By Don Gilman

The Northgate Peaks trail in the Kolob Terrace section of Zion National Park is an amazing trail with spectacular views. The trail itself is nearly flat, making it a perfect hike for families.

To reach the Northgate Peaks trailhead, take State Route 9 to the town of Virgin. Turn left onto Kolob Terrace Road. Drive for 15.7 miles through increasingly spectacular country until the short spur road (on the right) for the Wildcat Trailhead is reached. Drive a few hundred feet to the large parking area.

The trail heads east across grassy plains and stands of Ponderosa Pine with dynamite views of the towering Pine Valley Peak to the west. Soon the trail will be fully in the forest with limited views. After 0.9 miles, the junction with the Hop Valley trail is reached. Continue east, and 0.1 miles further, the junction with the Northgate Peaks Trail is reached. Head south on this trail for another 1.1 miles until the end of the official trail is reached at a rocky basalt bluff with epic views of the Northgate Peaks to the east and west and of North Guardian Angel to the south.

For families with young children, this makes an excellent turnaround spot.

Gifford Canyon

By Bo Beck

Gifford Canyon offers a nice stroll through a sandy wash and is very charming when water is running. This hike is nearly 3 miles long and will take about 2 hours to finish.

can scramble up the rock or look for the beaten path on the backside of the rock.

On top of this wall is a narrow dirt path that is crowded by rock and vegetation. It winds around the mountain to a dead end with a beautiful view of the mountain where the Canyon Overlook Trail is located, opposite is Gifford Canyon.

The path will lead past stone bridge

Many Pools

To start this hike, park in the lot located immediately east of the Zion/Mt. Carmel Tunnel. The trail begins at the backside of the restrooms at the back of the parking lot. There will be a steep, sandy path to climb down before you enter Pine Creek slot. Follow the path upstream for almost 75 feet, and look for a 15-foot wall of slickrock. You and to another minor slickrock climb. At the end of the canyon, there is a circle of cliffs preventing further exploration without climbing up the sandstone.

Chinle Trail

By Greta Hyland

Chinle Trail is an off-the-beaten-path trail located in the lower elevation west desert wilderness area, offering wide vistas, desert landscapes, and a reprieve from the more touristy trails in the park. Though it's a long trail, it's a mellow hike that can be cut off whenever you feel like turning around. It's a great hike with kids because it's not treacherous, slippery, or steep. Avoid it after snow or rain as it will be muddy.

The Chinle Trailhead starts outside of Zion, south of Springdale. If you are coming from St. George, the turn is about a block before you hit the apple orchard and stand as you leave Rockville off of State Route 9. There is a parking area off the right of Anasazi Way near the Anasazi Plateau housing development. If you hit houses, you missed it. And yes, the trail starts below the housing development and takes you right through it. Don't worry though, it doesn't last long.

Shortly after you get through the housing development, you will hit a sign letting you know you are entering the Zion Wilderness. At this point, you can breathe a sigh of relief, because you have gotten away from civilization to enjoy nature, and chances are that you won't see another soul until you return to your car.

Many Pools

By Candice Reed

The route is moderate with a gentle uphill climb to an alcove, but plan for a strenuous hike if you continue to the East Rim.

The route begins right off the highway. Drive to the pullout near the second drainage on the north side of the State Route 9, about 0.8 miles after the smaller tunnel. Walk carefully along the road about 150 yards and drop down into a sandy bowl on the north side of SR-9. There is a trail for a short distance, and then the sand turns into large flat stones that you can pick and choose to walk on, depending on your sense of balance. A short distance off the road, filled pools carved into the rocks appear. Ponderosa Pines and Juniper trees twisted by the wind are a good backdrop to the reds and whites ribboned through the rocks.

Hidden Canyon

By Bo Beck and Tanya Milligan

Hidden Canyon features steep ascents, narrow foot paths, and switchbacks on a narrow cliffside with exposure at high elevations. Some parts have chains to use for assistance. Be cautious near slippery sandstone areas with steep dropoffs. Expect full sun in most places after the early morning.

Trail Closures (as of March 1 '20)

The Weeping Rock Trail, Hidden Canyon Trail, and Observation Point Trail (East Rim from Weeping Rock) are closed due to rockfall damage. These closures are indefinite at this time.

Warning: These hikes are very popular and often overcrowded. While they are well worth doing, expect them to be a little congested.

If you are feeling up to some of the more difficult hikes, try some of these popular hikes.

Angels Landing via West Rim Trail

Possibly the most popular hike in Zion, Angels Landing takes around four hours to complete and covers just under 5 1/2 miles. As you work your way up the 1,488-foot change in elevation, you'll want to look out for long drop-offs. This hike is not for young children or people with a fear of heights. Be sure to enjoy, but be careful along the last section of the hike, which is a steep, narrow ridge to the summit. The hike starts at The Grotto.

Observation Point via East Rim Trail

This hike climbs through Echo Canyon to a viewpoint of Zion Canyon and offers access to Cable Mountain, Deertrap, and East Mesa trails. Plan for at least half of a day as this hike takes around five hours to complete and stretches over 8 miles. The 2,148-foot change in elevation from start to finish has long drop-offs, so be careful. Like Hidden Canyon Trail, this hike starts at Weeping Rock.

The Narrows via Riverside Walk

A full-day hike at 8 hours, the Narrows can pose extra dangers depending on the weather. High water levels can prevent access to the Narrows, so be sure to check with the visitor center before beginning this 9 1/2-mile hike. You'll start this hike at Temple of Sinawava.

Kolob Arch via La Verkin Creek Trail

Getting to Kolob Arch via the La Verkin Creek Trail follows Timber and La Verkin creeks and connects to the trail to Kolob Arch, one of the world's largest freestanding arches. A full-day hike, it will take around 8 hours to finish the 14-fourteen mile trip. This hike starts at Kolob Canyons Road.

If you are looking for something more moderate, try some of these mid-range hikes.

Watchman Trial

Starting at the Zion Canyon Visitor Center, this hike takes about two hours and covers just under 3 miles. The 368-foot elevation has some minor drop-offs and ends at a view point for Tower of the Virgin, lower Zion Canyon, and Springdale.

Middle Emerald Pools Trail

A two-hour hike, Middle Emerald Pools has long drop-offs. The unpaved trail to the Middle Emerald Pools has loose sand and slippery rocks. You'll cover two miles in 2 hours over the course of a 150-foot elevation gain. The hike starts at Zion Lodge.

Upper Emerald Pool Trail

Starting at Zion Lodge, this is a shorter trail covering one mile in about an hour. You will rise 200-feet in elevation, and there are minor drop-offs.

Kayenta Trail

This two-hour hike starts at the Grotto and goes for two miles. You'll gain 150 feet in elevation, and the trail does have long drop-offs. This unpaved climb connects the Grotto to the Emerald Pools trails.

Canyon Overlook Trail

Starting at Zion-Mt. Carmel

Highway, this one-hour hike provides a 163-foot gain in elevation over the course of a mile. This rocky and uneven trail ends at a viewpoint for Pine Creek Canyon and lower Zion Canyon. While this trail is mostly fenced, there are long drop-offs.

Taylor Creek Trail

You'll begin this five-mile hike at Kolob Canyons Road. It should take around 4 hours to complete and provides a 450-foot gain in elevation. Larger groups may need to split up, as this hike limits 12 people to a group. It follows the Middle Fork of Taylor Creek past two homestead cabins to Double Arch Alcove.

Timber Creek Overlook Trail

A quick hike, the Timber Creek Overlook Trail covers just one mile and 100 feet in elevation gain. It can be done in about 30 minutes. The trail follows a ridge to a small peak with views of Timber Creek, Kolob Terrace, and Pine Valley Mountains.

Those looking for something less strenuous should check out these easy hikes.

Pa'rus Trail

Starting at the Zion Canyon Visitor Center, this two-hour hike covers 3 1/2 miles and rises 50 feet in elevation. A paved trail that follows the Virgin River from the South Campground to Canyon Junction, Pa'rus Trail is wheelchair accessible and is open to both bicycles and dogs.

Archeology Trail

Also starting at the Zion Canyon Visitor Center, this short half-hour hike covers just under half a mile and rises 80 feet in elevation, making it a short but steep trail. This trail offers trailside exhibits and views of several prehistoric buildings.

Lower Emerald Pool Trail

This paved trail leads to the Lower Emerald Pool and waterfalls. It also connects to the Middle Emerald Pools Trail. It should take about an hour and covers just over one mile with 69 feet in elevation gain.

Grotto Trail

Starting at Zion Lodge or the Grotto, this trail connects the two locations and can be combined with the Middle Emerald Pools and Kayenta trails to create a 2 1/2-mile loop. The non-loop version should take about 30 minutes and rises 35 feet over one mile.

Riverside Walk

Starting at Temple of Sinawava, this 1 1/2-hour hike cover just over two miles and rises 57 feet in elevation. While it is wheelchair accessible, there are minor drop-offs. The trail, which is paved, offers trailside exhibits as it follows the Virgin Rivet along the bottom of a narrow canyon.
